Lets analyze the state of things and count the ways you bring me down brand new people leave us feelin' better so happy now we're not together I heard your back in town hope I don't see you around wearin' the loser crown and when I think of things we used to say I laugh out loud, funny times from yesterday people say 'you were great, it's too bad it had to end that way' but they don't know what you're all about your legacy won't fade away just like a rotten smell that's stale and sour your open window let some air in and it's bound to get better by the hour when I say it's all okay you just turn around and walk away 'cause you know it deep inside that you never meant a thing as I lift my head up to sing and just walk away
