Screen is blue, and the fire is red
Should I get up, or stay in bed?
No I believe I've got it wrong
Stay right here, where I belong

'Cause I've got the brains, they're there in my head
Well all that remains, is just to get out of bed.
I'm missing the best, part of the day,
Stealing tomorrow to help me get over today.

Just an ordinary guy,
Shoes have got holes and my hopes are high.
I've got to say, though I'm confused,
Well everyone that I pass seems so amused.
'Cause I've got the wheels, but I don't got the time,
I know how it feels, stuck at the back of the line.
I've don't got the words, it's not easy to say,
Stealing' tomorrow to help me get over today.

'Cause I've got the brains, they're there my head,
All that remains, is just to get out of bed,
I'm missing the best, part of the day,
Stealing tomorrow just to help me get over today.
