It has to say your name
How could you do this then walk away
And then you see that all your lies
They are alive inside of you
Because you still believe

(CHORUS)

Cost you everything
Because you still believe
That you can rule the world
Lost inside your mind
Is the only thing
That shall set you free

You pushed me to the edge
I see you change in so many ways
And where I am its hard to breathe
You know that I can always see
Through you

Isn't it strange how the little things
About you move the way it used to be
Everything changes...
Eventually

CHORUS X 3

And it cost you everything
And it cost you everything
Because you still believe
And it has to say your name
