

Gray David

"Coming Down"

Visit "Coming Down" on MotoLyrics.com

Tears falling slow
From the bridge
into the river below
In your eyes, I start to see
A starry veil,
the ocean of infinity

Moon and stars above me Mingle with the blood
inside my vein
These empty arms that should be Holding you close
through nights of winter rain
I'm trying to spell
What only the wind can explain
It's colder than ever
Coming down

I'm drowning in shallows
Cos it's in so deep
There's neon melting in the rain
Took too much powder to sleep
Cos when I hold you naked
When I see you laugh
I got a sword to stem the rivers
And cut the moon in half

Frozen stars above me
Mingle with the blood
inside my vein
Empty arms that should be
Holding you close
through nights of winter rain
I'm trying to spell
What only the wind can explain
It's colder than ever
Coming down

We danced wild
Kicked off our shoes

Not a cloud
in the skies to confuse
But now the sky is cold
And the sea is wide
And there's nothing to be done
'cept reflecting the sun
And scratching the mountainside

Frozen stars above me
Mingle with the blood
inside my vein
Empty arms that should be
Holding you close
through nights of winter rain
And I'm trying to spell
What only the wind can explain
It's colder than ever
Coming down

Visit Gray David page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.