My good friends speak
like they did last year last night's just a blur through a head full of beer
and last year's just a blur

Where's your wisdom put that broken bottle down let the wind in your sails take you out of this town so sad

CHORUS

I think I'm dying and if life's just a living room then I'm in the hall and I'm glad if life's just a living room I'm in the hall and I'm glad Oh I'm glad, I'm glad, I'm glad

Now the dawn it has broke still the night don't clear memories falling in the morning rain I'm up too close to see it clear
and last year's just a blur
