"I lay my eyes in the past
From the first day to the last Several things we had to learn
Countless mistakes from times of yore
Now we restart, we recreate
Your present is your fate
Only yourselves you wanna save
Don't turn your backs on mankind!
Ignorance burns just like a fire
Consuming people on its flame

Sprouts of time
Fellow creatures, so wonderful!
So different and so grand
The roots evolving

Tomorrow's harvest field we plant were scattered yesterday
The seeds for the future
today
Your crown will ever last
The tall trees of life
(Life experience)
Break your shell reach the light!
Find your path to the skies
(Will come around on a thunder sound)
(Mind and sould)
Raging with power and fury the new born world

Sprouts of time
The roots evolving
The seeds from the past branching out
Growing forever

Embrace each other
The dances, the faces, the smiles
Hands on heart

Behind the past
New seasons bring the chance

To start again
Tall trees will ever last
The circles of life"
