"The Puppet"

Let me step inside these shoes
Trip awhile of the blues
Pull these strings on my hands
Playin' time with the band
I'll tie you up in a ribbon of tune
And sing a song that will send you
Feelin' fine, not just for one moment
On down the line until the roads ends
Through the other side, not just for one moment
Chasing after the light until the darkness fades
Peel the face back and cry
Make you laugh and make you smile for awhile
Dance my legs down a cartoon colored lane
Float my fingers down the tracks of a train
The song comes blowin' out of nowhere
Like a trumpet fills the air sends you
Feelin' fine, not just for one moment
On down the line until the roads ends
Through the other side, not just for one moment
Chasing after the life until the darkness fades
Tear down the life line, let my heart beat free

Tear down the life line, let my heart beat free

Oh, so free

Cut the strings away from me

Now I'm standin' on my own

Beat is marching on all the notes

Have all be flown

Flash these lines to a high

This puppet needs no lines

Let those curtains fly

Tie you up in a ribbon of tune

Sing a song that you will send you

Feelin' fine, not just for one moment

On down the line until the roads ends

Through the other side, not just for one moment

Chasing after the light, until the darkness fades away from me

Will I be, will I be afraid?
