This song is a dedication to those strugglin' and livin' on
For those who can't see the light, it's comin'
Stay strong, feel me

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to send me light so I can touch my soul
And always know right from wrong
Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to touch my heart so He can ease the pain
Anything to hide the scars

Thank you God, I appreciate every blessin'
Happiness to heartaches, take it as a lesson
I learned a lot in this year
Got a profession that keeps me stressin'

Facin' criticism, answerin' questions
And you still keep me happy and healthy Blessed with a mind to play the cards that life has dealt me
No doubt I struggle, I cry at times
Sometimes I wish I could live in a bubble
And it gets hard not to stray to trouble

I'm proud of me, got a family that holds me down Real friends 'cause the other ones claim they don't know me now
But long as God with me, I'ma be good for sure He's the one who picks me up when my face is to the floor

Life is crazy, people never cease to amaze me
Stay with stories by how they made me or raised me
And it's funny, 'cause everybody seems to be so hungry
Either they want my life, or they want my money

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to send me light so I can touch my soul
And always know right from wrong

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to touch my heart so He can ease the pain
Anything to hide the scars

How can life be so hard?
Whatever doesn't kill me makes me strong
Every day I pray to God
Whatever doesn't kill me makes me strong

Uhh, been through a lot
Still gotta watch my back 'cause people plot
Close is to do you dirty just so they can take your spot
Some days I feel like I wanna quit
But I pray too long and dreamed and worked too hard for it

Wouldn't trade my life, none even a little bit
'Cause it could be worse for real, I could be turnin' tricks
Might bitch and whine but always just in the back of my mind
I could be livin' on the streets, nothin to eat without a dime

So I thank God, and I think why 'cause life's hard Meet a lot of people but always I'm puttin' up my guard
'Cause you never know, some people snakes
Some people give a lot but mostly not, most people take

A lot of smilin' claimin' realness but most people fake Still gotta smile, 'cause that's what it takes Sometimes it's lonely, I feel like people see me really don't know me
But my best friend is Him, and I know He'll hold me

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to send me light so I can touch my soul
And always know right from wrong
Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to touch my heart so He can ease the pain
Anything to hide the scars

I got a lotta people on my side protectin' me
Dee, Waah, Chivon, and the family
Gotta thank God for them 'cause they keep me right
I also thank Him every day for the love of my life

I thank Him, for this gift just to be able to write
And rock crowds that scream my name, able to excite
Thank God for my fans, I love the way they love me

Happy that I'm comfortable, eatin', livin' lovely

I love my life, still there's the pressure and pain
So I make sure that I'm grounded and able to maintain Alotta people think I'm lucky, travelin' and hangin' out
But if they only knew, I wish I could be hangin' out

I'm bangin' out hits, in the studio I'm livin' low Makin' plans to last a lifetime, make sure I'm gettin' dough
Huh, come on, just so the people know
Uhh, come on, just so the people know

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to send me light so I can touch my soul
And always know right from wrong
Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to touch my heart so He can ease the pain
Anything to hide the scars

Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to send me light so I can touch my soul
And always know right from wrong
Livin' life is so hard, every day I pray to God
Tell Him to touch my heart so He can ease the pain
Anything to hide the scars
