I'll take this chance to tell my friends
What I'm thinking of
On second thought I'll think some more
And tell you later on

She don't even care
But I would die for her love

My mind is full of several things
Resembling a thought
I'll take this chance to tell my friends
What I'm thinking of

She don't even care
But I would die for her love

I've had this plan for many years
But now I can't remember
I wanted to assassinate December
I wanted to assassinate December
