grass to my knees
giving hope
and new joys
bend and lean
on me when
you feel
that strange stream
fill my bath
with cold night air through my lungs limping on two legs again

dont you think that i've been given up?
dont you think that i've been given up?
change, i take the blame
i take the blame, i move away

space in my life
give me yours
room to grow
pull my ears
back with words
heartbeats hurt
you have my chest full of cold night air in my lungs

dont you think that i've been given up?
dont you think that i've been given up?
change, i take the blame
i take the blame, i move, change i take the blame
i take the blame, i move
