talked myself into being you it seemed easier than finding something new and I broke them down did it all for you
no need for thank you and so go ahead and change go ahead and change
talked myself into being strange and I take your very breath away and I asked myself why love won't change
and take your very breath away someone braved the waters for me and for you I will do the same no one's very real today
all I have to give this world is me and that's it and all I have to show this world is me and that's it and all I have to face this world is me and that's it just me
just me
just me
and that's it
faced ourselves in the mirror last night to learn who we are so when we arrive??? it's a big competition to get to the top common stereotypes ??? encouraging us not to stop not to stop
'til you get to the top
don't stop
don't you ever want to change
and I have to show the world is me and that's it and all I have to face this world is me

just me
just me
just me
just me
just me
all I have to give the world is me and that's it
and to the rest who avoid the mess I won't stray no not me and all I have to give the world is me and that's it the show face the world and to the rest who avoid I won't stray not me not me not me just me just me just me
