Begging like, you might
Take order in your own hands
I stare, seems like I don't care
Drop a chance in your handstand

I know the bad's gotta fix itself
Correct over time
And I know 'cause I've got the cure
I've got a cure for your crimes

All I dreamed of, all that seemed like luck
Seems silly to you now
All I said to you, all I did for you
Seems so silly to me now

Screaming like no one might
Call the cops and arrest you this time
Standing back against my building's backdoor
You're hoping for a ride

I know the world's been mean to you
I've got a cure, hold tight
I know the world's not fair to you
I've got a cure for its crimes

All I dreamed of, all that seemed like luck
Seems silly to you now
All I said to you, all I did for you
Seems so silly to me now

Oh, oh, when you say it so, so
Slowly to me, oh, oh
Well, I keep going, oh, no
I run while knowing

No, no, I know you need it
So, so I need it too and oh, oh
I must keep going so, so
You must too and oh, oh

When you say it so, so
Slowly to me, oh, oh

Will I keep going, no, no
I run while knowing, no, no

I know you need it
So, so I need it too and oh, oh
I must keep going
So you must too, oh, oh

I've got a cure
I've got the cure for you
I've got a cure
I've got the cure

All I dreamed of, all that seemed like luck
Seems silly to you now
All I said to you, all I did for you
Seems so silly to me now

All I dreamed of, all that seemed like luck
All I said to you, all I did for you
Seems so silly to me now

I've got a cure
I've got a cure
