Today I'll let the sunset
Theres no anger in my heart
Tonight just let the moon rise
Our time wont be spent apart
Starlight and confessions
Of what you mean to me
These twilight conversations
They're helping me to see

::Chorus::

What you are in God's eyes
What you are in mine
Not a hair too shy of perfect
And always just in time
I've never seen a miracle
So clear before my eyes
The epitome of grace was seen that day

I remember that day so clearly now
At 10th and Woodsborough
You had me at the second glance
Because the first left me in awe
We took a leap of faith
So take another chance with me
I'll go the extra mile
You're the girl I love, can't you see

::Chorus::

What you are in God's eyes
What you are in mine
Not a hair too shy of perfect
And always just in time
I've never seen a miracle
So clear before my eyes
The epitome of grace was seen that day.

((Repeat ::Chorus::))
