Magazines and movie screens,
Still in her mind, she's seventeen
Now her life has turned into make believe

Her social status lingers,
She's slipping through my fingers
It's too late, I can't change her mind

She tries celebrity life,
With drugs and bottles, with supermodels
She found out its not so easy
Alcohol drains her completely

There's just one thing you'd never wanna miss
She would do anything to get famous
(To get famous)

She lives a lie in photographs
She smiles to forget the past
So on the inside, she's so torn apart

She promises she's different
But it just gets into her head
It's too late, I can't change her mind
Not this time

She tries celebrity life,
With drugs and bottles, with supermodels
She found out its not so easy
Alcohol drains her completely

There's just one thing you'd never wanna miss
She would do anything to get famous
(To get famous, get famous, get famous)

Fast asleep, and in her dreams
She's faking it, just what she's feeling
The lights are on, the clothes come off
She's sitting tight, the party's over

Fast asleep, and in her dreams

She's faking it, just what she's feeling

She tries celebrity life,
With drugs and bottles, with supermodels
She found out its not so easy
(Not so easy)

She tries celebrity life,
With drugs and bottles, with supermodels
She found out its not so easy
Alcohol drains her completely

There's just one thing you'd never wanna miss
She would do anything to get famous

She tries celebrity life,
With drugs and bottles, with supermodels
She found out its not so easy
(Not so easy, not so easy)

She would do anything to get famous
(To get famous)
