I bet you think it's the last time
Your head is spinning and you wonder why
He's not missing you
But don't take my word, do what you want to

Chasing a rockstar, but where will you go?
You're chasing him too far, the way you move so slow
You swear you're innocent, but I know that you'll regret
Chasing a rockstar now, get over yourself

You want to take a chance
But you keep thinking it will end in romance
He's not missing you
But don't take my word, do what you want to
I guess now its up to you

Why can't you stay right where you are
You're losing track of me so lets start this over tonight
Give up your dreams and say goodbye
