locked away in a cage my rage has got the best of me time finds a way each day each day of leaving less of me behind i find this fight must be won inside my mind so uptight and confined often blinded by the light taking its toll on my system like some played out existence time ticks away these last few moments is there anything we've left unsaid im on a quest for atonement ive got to find peace of mind and a place to rest time ticks away these last few moments is there anything
find
peace of mind and a place to rest(2x) biding my time until im strong enough to fight back hope i hope against hope for some resistance been takin it out on my system
time ticks away these last few moments is there
peace of mind and a place to rest(2x) theres a calm before the storm and the western front is quiet ive got rembrant as my right hand solo as my pilot(2x) condemed man condemned convicted man convicted could not save my life cutting strand by strand Passing it off Like some kind of king
You don't know peace til you had known suffering I've suffered all of you so-called resolve But you haven't tasted pain Have you ever been inside the new masterpiece?
REST!
Have you ever been inside?
Rembrandt as my right hand, and Solo as my pilot
Have you ever been inside the new masterpiece?

Condemned man, condemned
Convicted man, convicted
Could not save my life
Cutting strand by strand

Condemned man, condemned
Convicted man, convicted
Could not save my life
Cutting strand by strand

Strand by, strand by...(x9)

Strand by strand
Condemned
