i toss a penny down the well but i can't wait and it's too dark to tell if it ever hits the water i see you running through the wheat it looks like rain and you're too sweet to play the tempting farmer's daughter i'll take the heat

you turn your pale white back i'll take the key from under the welcome mat and we

open the first of many doors i'll braid your hair and sweep the floor we'll make a run for sanctuary forget the trip you planned for may it doesn't matter anyway don't turn away from sanctuary nero, he's my hero cause he's all decked out in sheets and leaves with berries peggy lee don't do the same for me i can't get too close to fuzzy sweaters

i hear you calling from the hall but i can't make out words at all something like "losing elegance" i was heading down a path and i will turn but not too fast you know i lose my balance

i'll take the heat
