we are the ones,
we are the free,
lets separate them from ourselves,
it's our disease,
it's the poison running through my veins.

the gun is loaded for you,
don't cry for me,
don't cry for me,
everything is, everything is okay now.

you can take all of me,
and if you do,
you'll feel it everytime i breathe.
london's calling you tonight,
don't wonder,
i'll wait for... you.

we are the young,
what we believe,
it separate us from their dreams.
it's our disease,
it's the drug that makes our hearts beat faster.
what would you say if i wrote this for you?
what would you say if i told you that i care?
everything is, everything is just fine.

i've been calling you all night,
don't wonder,
i'll wait for you.

the gun is loaded for you.

i fucking wrote this for you.
everything is just fine.
