We fell out of progress a long long time ago
Forget what makes us different and then they'll take it slow

Finally we could catch up the things
That we lost when the Edison's passed away
And go back to the places that we were kids
From the real world and just stay

So get up so get out well come on
As we fall into ourselves
The future is still ours so hold on
Cause we'll take it from the shelves

Let's discover a time and place where we gave it all we know

I won't hate you if you're not around
But I'll hate it when you go
Cause it's you and I that could save ourselves
And it's you and I alone
And no one could ever escape themselves
Cause I know when you feel at home

So get up so get out well come on
As we fall into ourselves
The future is still ours so hold on
Cause we'll take it from the shelves
