Louise Rhodes :

Oh glory be, where have i been
What dark dream was i in Thought i was living but now i see
Real life was only just beginning
Because

Something in me just woke up
I was sleeping till your touch

Well, i've been hiding out you see
With my heart locked up tight
To let love in was all too scary for me
Then you came along with all your light
Ooh shining bright, now

Something in me just woke up
I was sleeping til your touch

Where did you come from it
How did you find me out
Never thought i could feel this way
Your kiss just brought this to me

Something in me just woke up
I was sleeping til your touch

Something in me just woke up
I was sleeping til your touch

Your touch
Your touch
Your touch
Your touch
