Another night, Another day
Another minute slips away
And wonder why you're here at all
Ambitions fade, times get tough
You tried so hard but it's not enough
And now your backs against the wall
Just remember who you are, you can be a lucky star

Be everything you wanna be, you're extraordinary
Don't waste your time with memories, you're extraordinary
Take your chances while you can
Take your own life in your hands
And you can start it all again
Like it's the first time

You reminisce, static haze
You're thinking back to better days
It's time to put it all behind
The futures now, forget the past
Your life is rushing by too fast
It's time to open up your mind
Just remember who you are
You can be a lucky star

Be everything you wanna be, you're extraordinary
Don't waste your time with memories, you're
extraordinary
Take your chances while you can
Take your own life in your hands
And you can start it all again

Be everything you wanna be, you're extraordinary
Don't waste your time with memories, you're
extraordinary
Take your chances while you can
Take your own life in your hands
And you can start it all again

Be everything you wanna be, you're extraordinary
Don't waste your time with memories, you're

extraordinary
Take your chances while you can
Take your own life in your hands
And you can start it all again
You're extraordinary
