It's the everyday miracles that keep my hope alive

It's the way You move in little things that help me survive

And I know You move in greater ways

But this is great enough for me

What You do with my everyday is amazing

The things that seem impossible, I lay down at Your feet

And just when I am needing most You are there for me

And I know you've made the lame to walk

And caused the blind to see

But what You do with my everyday is amazing

When I'm down on my knees

And I can't make it through

When it's up to me

It's really up to You
