From Bendin' in the Wind

(Note: Many of the verses in this song were accompanied by Beck on the tail end but are not transcribed as such here)

Bender

People say my broken friend is useless
But I say his mind is free
There's lots of things my mangled robot friend could be
He could make a good hat rack

Beck

He only has to stand there

Bender

Or a cheap door stop

Beck

He doesn't need to move

Bender

Or a great big giant thermos
With a twist off top

Beck

That would be good for soup

Bender

He could be a storage closet

Bender, Beck

For outdated pants

Beck

I like 'em tight

Bender

My broken friend could do it all

Bender, Beck

Just give him a chance

Bender

That robot has a tragic secret
That I'd like to share

Beck

For real?

Bender

My broken friend is closer to me than an ass to a chair
That robots name I never told you
You could not foresee
I'll say it loud and sing it proud

Bender, Beck

His name is you and me

Bender

Don't melt me down into a crow bar

Beck

It suffers alone

Bender

Just cause I can't move my arms and legs
Or toss me into a trash can
Just cause I can't cook you ham and eggs
Don't crush me into an anchor

Just because I can't jump and dance and sing
I'm telling you my broken friend
Put your hands in the air like you just don't care
I'm telling you my broken friend
Can do most anything!
Yeah!
