Out of the blue you got me
Caught in the middle
You took my hand and told me it was simple
Just forget about her why can't you just move on
You said monogamy's overrated

Tore up the seams and now its taking me over
Thinking about when you gave me your number
And I swore I wouldn't call that's when you insisted
And it's so damn complicated

And step by step
You were changing my mind
Step by step
All the planets aligned
And step by step
I'm accepting the proof
That step by step by step
The more I'm falling for you

Caught in a dream
That seems to go on forever
You cried and said that I could do much better
This was a chance I always wanted to take
But I was just to scared to take it

And step by step
You were changing my mind
Step by step
All the planets aligned
And step by step
I'm accepting the proof
That step by step by step
The more I'm falling for you

(You got me falling)
The more I'm falling for you
(You got me falling)
And there's nothing I can do
You got me falling oh
You got me falling

Step by step
by step, by step, by

Maybe you just don't know how to face it
It's true, it's true
Maybe you just don't know how to break it
To you, to you

And step by step
You were changing my mind
Step by step
All the planets aligned
And step by step
That step by step by step

And step by step
Step by step
And step by step
That step by step by step
The more I'm falling for you

(You got me falling)
The more I'm falling for you
(You got me falling)
You got me falling
Step by step
