the song of an angel
she sings to me in the morning have you heard the prophets preach do you hear the children calling she breathes to me a love song and she unmask her pain to you i say that youve bin my inspiration my one salvation
she packs all her memories shes leaving in the morning but then when all was said and done when she heard her reason calling she said to her soul
ive lost control
and its
about time that ive got back home here i go again for you i pray that youve learned from isolation to you i say theres a better tomorrow than today
