I will love you 'till the mountains in this land have turned to dust
Till the wheels of time have ceased to move and rust
I will tame the mighty oceans if you tell me that I must
For I'm proud to be the one in which you trust
Won't you please believe me darling
When you caught me I was falling
And you helped me find the way to your heart
Now it seems that for a lifetime I have worshipped from afar
But my heart is yours for no matter where you are
You are my soul
You are the endless light,
And I will love you 'til the stars fall from the sky
And when I'm gone
Lady you will still hear my words
For this love will go on
Far beyond the world
It was hell before I met you
Cold and sombre was the night
In the darkness I was blind to see the light
On a cold and misty morning
Turned my face towards the sky
And I realised the sun rose in your eyes
Won't you please believe me darling
When you caught me I was crawling
Through the barren wastes that tore me apart
But I see the light is dawning
And my world is where you are
It's a second chance, it's a brand new way to start
You are my soul
You are the endless light,
And I will love you 'til the stars fall from the sky
And when I'm gone
Lady you will still hear my words
For this love will go on
Far beyond the world
