Here I am again, stuck inside it's raining and cold I'm hoping that whatever is on your mind, I haven't already been told so

Come in again to the basement, where we all come to play
Won't you step inside my mind

So come on in, come on in, you never know when we'll meet here again
And I think this might be the best thing

Here's a little place, where I can go, where I can try to lose myself
Just a little somewhere you might know, and you should bring everybody else so Step in again to the basement, where you've come to see me play
Won't you step inside my mind

Step in again to the basement, you know we like it this way
Won't you step inside my mind

we'll meet here again
And I think this might be the best thing
Yeah this is the best thing
