Life's so unfair, you thought
Then turned on your TV
Life's so unfair you sobbed
Then picked up the keys

You lock your castle door behind you
To go for a ride
Your shiny car roars as you think
Of what you've been denied

No one understands your mind
No one ever tried
No one has a clue
Of what you are inside

And I lie
But I believe myself
And the truth hurts
More than anything else

Drowning in self pity, killing time
It helps me to write the words
To think about the grime
And if you piss me off
Please don't apologize

My anger drives conviction
As I proclaim these silly lies
If you don't believe me
Just read between the lines

No one has a clue
Of what's behind these eyes
And I lie
