

Ten Foot Pole "Pride and Shame"

Visit "Pride and Shame" on MotoLyrics.com

Is there something more I just can't see?
I've been so busy trying every day to make ends meet
Been such a long time
Since I stopped to smell the coffee
Now I wonder can I tell the forest from the trees?

I know that I feel pride and I know that I fear shame
I know I want you to smile when you hear my name
Seems like a silly game
But I know I play it harder than anything

I feel alone
There's people everywhere

Some of these people even care
Once in a while you find someone who really cares
But I'm too busy to give them what they need
It's not greed it's the fear of failure
It keeps me going
But when tomorrow comes there's always something more
And I can't stop working long enough
To wonder what life's for What is it for?
Am I just a whore?
Who am I working for?

Visit Ten Foot Pole page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.