i couldve lied
the truth a needle in your eye the wound a band-aid wont heal
but i persist
and try to tell it
like it is
whats the point if were not real?
[Chorus]
riptide sweeps me out to drown flailing arms and aching chest the more i struggle,the more it wears me down how long can i hold my breath?

another test

you used to say i was the best so proud to walk by my side now you see everything thats wrong with me

can you accept it

will you try?
[Chorus]
rolling
choking

still im kicking
driftig farther out to sea
i wont let go of
my dim hopes somehow

youll make it out to me
