If I could see you next Monday it'd be alright

I'll hold on to the memories of tonight

And I could smile at three am

When I close my eyes and I pretend

Chorus

That you're here and you're with me

And you care about what I'm feeling

This optimism was never in my book

My what a blessing, you should see how it took

Away all the pain with the rain tonight

As I lay here thinking about how it'll be alright

Chorus

When you here and you're listening

And you care about what I'm feelings

And all I am is thankful for the stars which are you

When they shine in my sky
