Nights and days
Days and days
Don?t let the time of your life slip away
Just hold on to moments and don?t let them fade

Mornings are glimmering
Sunlight is blistering
Why does it feel as though this is a dream?

Evenings are suffering
Sitting and muttering
The dreams that I?m dreaming are larger than me

Nights and days
Days and days
Can you feel the time slipping away?

Mornings are glimmering
Sunlight is blistering
Why does it feel as though this is a dream?

Evenings are suffering
Sitting and muttering
The dreams that I?m dreaming are larger than me

Nighttime is thundering
With all that uttering
The dark side of you is the light side of me

Walking and wandering
Seeing what should be seen
Wishing the feeling of ending this scene

Day after day is clear
Night comes at this time of your
When you can feel the moon tugging your strings

She is the brightest thing
On the dark side of things
But you can?t hear her
When she tries to sing
