So warm and smooth
These fears remain
I feel the lust
Pour through my veins

I wake today never believing
Seams I've made would fray
Come over to me and say
Everything can't change
Everything's the same

With you
Swarmed and soothed
We flow within
This worn out room

Quick now, come right back to me
And say that this is not a dream
Your vibe more gorgeous than before

Plywood and hand made quilts believe
That this is more than vacancy
Your eyes swallow all I know

Chorus

You fill all I know
Haunting even though
I cannot let go

Chorus
