"Keep it to yourself"

You're telling and you're feeling relief
Keep it to yourself
She's burdened now and man that's freezing
Keep it to yourself

She's crying all alone in her bed
Trembling from the words that you said
Keep it to yourself

Take the pain
And keep it to yourself

Come on
You shoulda just shut your mouth

And felt it every time that she smiled
But now she's crying all alone in her bed
Yearning all the warmth that she had

Keep it to yourself

All the things that she was doing wrong
They all drop

She is feeling no loss
She keeps it to herself

Chorus

And when she's feeling like forgiving
I hope she...
I hope she keeps it to herself!
