As a child I remember things that just can't be explained away
On the journey here unseen things see to appear

Maybe I have always known You
I just didn't know it
I have always wondered
Why the wind seemed to call to me

All my life
And in fine form tonight
Your love's been near
Like a whisper loud and clear

The silence may not cry out with sound but

It speaks Your name, Your names
And the dreaming of a better place, it rests deep in me
You'd think this was meant to be

Maybe I have always known You
I just didn't know it
I have always wanted all that you want for me

All my life
And in fine form tonight
Your love's been near
Like a whisper loud and clear

Maybe I have always known You
I just didn't know it
I have always wanted,
WANTED YOU more than anything
