Holding out, for the long run
This time thinking if I keep thinking
This time thinking if I keep thinking sound
Thinking sound, overdue..
Walls around, watered life
If I'm the captain of my soul
I need to mutiny, regain control
Regain control, I'm overdue

Trying to find, trying to find
A room without a ceiling
Trying to find some way to keep from feeling
Did I hurt you? Did I? Did I hurt..
I've been lost for a long time, on my own
Hiding out, from the people I can't see eye to eye with
I keep slipping
All I know is I keep slipping down again
Why? Am I the one who's tripping?
All I know is I need to hear that sound again

Trying to find, trying to find
A room without a ceiling
Trying to find some way to keep from feeling
Did I hurt you? Did I? Did I hurt...
