She lies in the morning
Red sky is a warning, yes, it is
She lies in the morning
Red sky is in her eyes

She cries 'cause the morning is too long
She tries, but she still can't carry on
She lies to escape the morning sun
She dies and the world still carries on

Where did you go?
Why did you fall?
She didn't know
There's nothing at all

You killed yourself, my love
There's nothing left for me
Life was a pain
But now you're free

You shot your soul, my love
Blew all you had
Now, I'm left here
Feeling bad

You shot your life away
For the unreal
Now, there is nothing left
To feel

You made your tracks, my love
You made them deep
But sleep
