Confused together
As one is by the other
When two can't come together
Press my face against the glass
I wonder how long this one will last
We struggle through and struggle on
I feel so weak when I was so strong
And I'm confused
As you're confused
With us
Hold it in or let it out
With tongue in cheek or foot in mouth
I'll let you go...to stay the same
Now crystal tears call a blue eyed rain
And I'm confused when you're confused
And I'm alone when you're alone
It makes us part of one another
And in that sense we're still together
Just confused, just confused
Confused together
As one is by the other
When two can't come together
I awoke at the feet of God
He gave me life when I was in the rot
He cleared my head and cleared my path
Script in footprints running from our past
