You move the earth
You hold the stars
Come move in us
Come hold our hearts
You send the rain
And life begins
So rain on us and reign within our lives again

We're waiting here
Waiting for you, God
With our hopes and fears
We come empty hands held out
Lord, draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall before everything You are
Yeah, before everything You are

You lift the sun into the sky
You lift us up
Open our eyes
To see Your face
And what You've done
You took the nails to give us love
And we stand in awe before Your throne
There's no where else that we can go

We're waiting here
Waiting for you, God
With our hopes and fears
We come empty hands held out
Lord, draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall before everything You are

Come, O Come, Emmanuel
Come Lord, here to dwell
Let all Your children lift one voice
Hear us sing now...

We're waiting here
Waiting for you, God
With our hopes and fears

We come empty hands held out
Lord, draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall
Lift us up to fall...

We're waiting here
Waiting for you, God
With our hopes and fears
We come empty hands held out
Lord, draw us near
Ohhh...
