I can't believe the things you said to me
Now I am not alright not well & I can not yet tell you if I'll survive inspite of all the hurt last time
'Cos I'm a million miles away inside
& I can't breathe

Just know I did not believe your lies &
Now I will not be there by your side
When all of your choices come to haunt you
The things you've done to me after all I've done for you

You left you said you were never very much in love with me
& I am not enough of everything you think you need
But I cannot believe you took for granted everytime
That I took a stand for you
I see,
Know you are not enough that someone for someone like me

I hoped,
I prayed,
That you could some how find a way to stay for one more day,
For me
For all that we could be
But no you did not give me that right
& know I will not be there by your side
When all of your choices come to haunt you
The things you've done to me after all I've done for you

You left you said you were never very much in love with
me
& I am not enough of everything you think you need
But i cannot believe you took for granted everytime
That I took a stand for you I see
Now you are not enough that someone for someone
like me

Now I'm alright

I still get by Comes as no surprise
Living without you
I am still breathing and alive,
Now that you're out
All my life
I'm not giving up everything I have for you
No more I'm through
You know I'll never break again for you

You left you said you were never very much in love with
me
& I am not enough of everything you think you need
But I cannot believe you took for granted everytime
That I took a stand for you I see
Now you are not enough that someone for someone
like me
