So many chapters to
This life we're living through
I rediscover you with every passing day
And I'm happy here
To know you're standing by
My side as time passes by, and I

Know all the years and the places
The fears, the lonely faces
Scars, and broken hearts have made us who we are
We're always writing a new history
And redefining you and me
And though I know we've come so far
We will begin again
Our story never ends...

I wonder every day
If i could watch the changes
In our passions as they happen slowly
Making us what we need
The you and me we find inside
As time passes by, and I...

Know all the years and the places
The fears, the lonely faces
Scars, and broken hearts have made us who we are
We're always writing a new history
And redefining you and me
And though I know we've come so far...

We're changing all the time and I can see
So much of what you mean to me
I can't explain the how and why
Of all the changes now, but I...

Know all the years and the places
The fears, the lonely faces
Scars, and broken hearts have made us who we are
We're always writing a new history
And redefining you and me
And though I know we've come so far

We will begin again
Our story never ends..
