Leaps and bounds from where it should be
In between what is and what could be
One day at a time until the days run out
Slowly disappear
Can you see me now?

Time betrays the ones who are in need
Expectations clouding views of what we need
Two times again you have let us down
Difference divides
Do you feel hurt now?

Never again will I be the one in need
Never again will I kiss the hand that feeds
Leave it open for all to see
What happens when you do good deeds

I sacrificed myself to save you
I sacrificed myself to save you
I sacrificed myself to save you
I sacrificed myself to save you

Nowhere nobody
Nothing to give
Nothing nobody
Nowhere to live

Never again will I be the one in need
Never again will I kiss the hand that feeds
Leave it open for all to see
What happens when you do good deeds
