The road may be rough and rocky
Temptations may be strong
We may be tried and we may be denied
But we must journey on

Journey on, journey on
We must journey on
We may be tried and we may be denied
But we must journey on

Your friends they may forsake you
Turn their back on you
But in this life we must travel on
And see our journey through

Journey on, journey on
We must journey on
We may be tried and we may be denied
But we must journey on

Evil will tell you silver-tongued lies
Lead you off that narrow road
Sweet-talking temptation
Tryin' to get a hold of your soul

The road may be rough and rocky
Temptations may be strong
We may be tried and we may be denied
But we must journey on

Journey on, journey on
We must journey on
We may be tried and we may be denied
But we must journey on
