It's a long long road to travel alone
Honey, without you on my side
But I have to get home for some work that must be done
And I miss you when I leave you out of sight

Next morning at sunrise you'll find me gone
Next morning at sunrise you'll be on your own

I leave you my blankets and some cigarettes
You'll need them when I won't be here no more
'Cause I'm bound far away, maybe for to stay
So tomorrow night I won't be on your floor

Next morning at sunrise you'll find me gone
Next morning at sunrise you'll be on your own

I walk the streets of morning with you on my mind
The warmth of your body fades away
Your voice in my ear is getting unclear
But deep inside your memory does stay

Next morning at sunrise you'll find me gone
Next morning at sunrise you'll be on your own
