I'm not ready to leave
I've only just begun
I'm not ready to leave
I've barely had my fun

You have this way
Of changing what I say
And you have this heart
That tears others apart
And you will never know
How slowly I let go
For today is long

See inside your room
Why is it so small without you
Listen to your echoes
And dance naked and slow!

You have this way
Of changing what I say
And you have this heart
That tears others apart
And you will never know
How slowly I let go
For today is long
