

Terri Clark

"Something You Should've Said"

Visit "Something You Should've Said" on MotoLyrics.com

I overheard a conversation
Down at the diner tonight
A boy told a girl she was his whole world
And he'd love her till the end of time

It reminded me of you
And the thought went through my head
And that sounds like somethin' you should've said

I took myself out to a movie
Saw a man on the silver screen
Tell the woman he loved
For just one touch he would do anything

It reminded me of you
And the thought went through my head
And that sounds like somethin' you should've said

You never let me know the way you felt and I don't understand why
The longest talk we ever had was when I said
"Goodbye"
Yea yea yea

I heard a song playin' on the jukebox
A singer pourin' out his soul
And every word he sang was filled with pain
That he'd never let his lady go

It reminded me of you
And the thought went through my head
And that sounds like somethin' you should've said
That sounds like somethin' you should've said

Visit Terri Clark page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.