She wiped her hands on her apron and she put'm on her hips and gossiped till she turned blue as i was walkinn' by in my two dollar shoes i got my two dollar my two dollar my two dollar shoes there are those that call some cheap as if they was fine wine me, i got my two dollar shoes and god don't seem to mind about my two dollar my two dollar shoes when i got'm my friends said tak'm back you ain't normal you don't fit in lookin' like that in those two dollar shoes all i gotta say is if the shoe fits and you want to wear it you gotta lace them up and strut your stuff even if some care if you got two dollar two dollar two dollar shoes
