Oh my mother
She is a mountain
And her breast
It touch the sky

And my father
He is a river
Running through her
Sweet bye and bye

And my sister
She is a songbird
And she's singing in her flight
And my brother

He is a moonbeam
Failing on her in the night
There is a river
Run through the mountains

Under moonlight
Hear the song
Of the bloodlines
Gone long before me

And ever after Moving on
Ever after Moving on
