Disappointed Verse 1: I'll never forget when we first met, you smiled at me and something changed in my heart. I never believed that I'd find someone, whose love would warm me like the sun. You promised me that you would always have my back. Hung on your every word and took them all as fact. Now I see that was all an act. For you I'd do anything. But you were too blind to see what you had in me. Chorus: I'm disappointed in you after all we've been through how could you be so heartless cavalier and dishonest. I'm disappointed in you and if only I knew you would turn out to be such a bad memory. I'm disappointed Verse 2: I tried to be your woman, but the lies were too much and I don't deserve the pain your putting me through I made up my mind I'm going to back up off of you this is my last goodbye. Gotta face it. You're not the one for me. Gonna make it on my own I'd rather be happy with the road in front of me. You're only wasting my time trying to change my mind, no more tears to cry Chorus: I'm disappointed in you after all we've been through, how could you be so heartless, cavalier and dishonest. I'm disappointed in you and if only I knew you would turn out to be such a bad memory. I'm disappointed in you after all we've been through how could you be so heartless cavalier and dishonest baby, I'm disappointed in you boy this girl's gotta do what she's gotta do tired of feeling blue boy, I'm over you Bridge: I gave my all. What did I get. I trusted you. Tell me. You worked your way into my life now my heart must pay the price. I'm stronger now and I know how to let you go and live without you! You Chorus: I'm disappointed in you after all we've been through how could you be so heartless cavalier and dishonest. I'm disappointed in you and if only I knew you would turn out to be such a bad memory. I'm disappointed in you after all we've been through how could you be so heartless cavalier and dishonest, I'm disappointed in you boy this girl's gotta, what she's gotta do tired of feeling blue, boy I'm over you. I need someone who is true and it sure ain't you
