She looked right into my eyes and said to me

The hurt that you try to hide is killing me

You drink a thousand lies, to freeze the past in time

I've tried to fill this silence up

But now it's back again

See the pain in my eyes

See the scars deep inside

My god, I'm down in this hole again

With the laughter I smile

With the tears that I cry

Keep going down this road called life

She says that I'm insecure, I guess she's right

Cause just when I think I'm sure, alone at night

The agonies come back, this pain won't let me be

I try to fill this silence up

But now it's back again

See the pain in my eyes

See the scars deep inside

My god, I'm down in this hole again

With the laughter I smile

With the tears that I cry

Keep going down this road called life
Don't need your sympathy
I just want for this silence to stop killing me
It's deafening
It's deafening
This silence inside me
I try to fill this silence up
But now it's back again
It's empty like a suicide
This pain inside
See the pain in my eyes
See the scars deep inside
My god, I'm down in this hole again
With the laughter I smile
With the tears that I cry
Keep going down this road called life
Don't need your sympathy
I just want for this silence to stop killing me
